California Ranch News

Another intensive campaign is on in Kings county for extermination of ground squirrels.

A total of 7826 cars of raisin, wine and table grapes went out from Tulare county during 1926.

Airplanes brought into the Imperial valley for dusting cantaloupe fields for mildew are at work over some of the fields.

The successful farmer is the one who takes advantage of climate, weather and soil and applies them all for his own good.

It is estimated that there are 600,000 bees now working in Kings county, making honey out of the unusual amount of nectar available this spring.

A total of forty-eight awards and $833 in cash prizes fell to the exhibits of Pure Gold Fruit, from the Mutual Orange Distributors of Redlands at the recent 1927 National Orange Show.

All cows in Mendocino county are to be tested for tuberculosis by Dr. F. H. Whitehead, state deputy veterinarian, who will arrive soon to start the test campaign. Work will be started first in the Yorkville, Booneville, Philo and Navarro districts and later in the coast towns.

Two thousand acres of Tulare Lake land, on the west border of the lake and south of Stratford, has just been sold. It is part of the Clawson ranch holdings and is conveyed by H. Clawson to C. H. Glan and E. J. Sharp. It is reported that the sum involved in the sale was $200,000 the largest land sale recorded in Kings county for many months.

Shoes for $1.75 per pair! Not very common in this day and age, but this is the price for which the state of California can turn out a pair of shoes, according to W. G. McMillin, state purchasing agent, who buys stock for the manufacturing process. The shoes made by the state, instead of going on regular markets, are used for inmates of state institutions.

Its original capitalization of $1,000,000 having been doubled, the California Cotton Credit corporation, operating a Tulare branch of the Federal intermediate banking business through the recently organized San Joaquin Valley Cotton Growers association, now has a total of $2,000,000 available for 6 1/2 per cent loans to cotton growers of the valley on this year's plantings.

The Bankers Association of Imperial valley is offering a registered sow to the winner of the pig feeding contest conducted by the agriculture clubs of the valley and which is now drawing to a close. The animal is to remain the property of the boy or girl who wins first honors, for one year, and the litters which she drops will be the permanent property of the winner, while the sow will be passed on to the winner of next year's contest.

As a measure of protection to the extensive sheep raising industry of California, officials of the state department of agriculture have changed the regulations for importation of feeder sheep from the Navajo Indian Reservation in Arizona. Dr. J. P. Iverson, chief of the division of animal industry, announced. Sheep, to enter California boundaries, must be free of scab and dipped before they are allowed to cross the line, according to Iverson.

The honey harvest is on in Kings county and the bees are busy. Nectar is being sipped from billions of blossoms and the stored sweetness promises an unusual tonnage to the apiculturists. Kings county is one of the locations in the central San Joaquin valley in which the production of honey is assuming considerable proportions and it shared with Tulare, Kern and Fresno counties in the leadership in this important but little exploited industry.

While navels will move through April and into May, the bulk of the crop from the Redlands district has been shipped. Over 3100 cars of navels had rolled at a recent date. Prices have not been as high as they were last year. The movement of sweets and St. Mikes is almost at hand, but as these do not make a large crop here, they will soon be absorbed and then the Valencia shipping season will begin. It is expected that more than 1000 cars of Valentinas will be shipped from Redlands district this year.

Doings of the Legislature

Sacramento.—As the Legislature draws to its end the usual rush becomes daily more in evidence, and the desperate effort of the authors of bills to get them before the Senate or Assembly becomes more strenuous. The number of bills still to be considered is very large and would take weeks, if they were to be considered carefully and scrutinizingly as they should be, but that is always impossible in a legislative body in its final days. In future, California fruit products will be known not only by their quality but because they are packed, marked and shipped under stringent laws so that they are completely standardized. Besides the ordinary vegetables and fruits as contained in the original bills, the growers themselves have asked for standardizing measures covering juice grapes, grape fruit, lemons, dates, persimmons, artichokes, carrots, pomegranates, etc. Grain is also standardized and thus in the future goods will be sold to the world that come from this state on standard lines. "The California Standard" is to be a regular trade mark.

The sum of $75,000 has been appropriated for the use of a committee to study the state's revenue and taxation system and to recommend to the next Legislature the best system of meeting that perennial problem. The present system has reached its limit, and some new system must be devised to meet the ever mounting cost of the state government. The owners of property along the shore in southern California made a rigorous fight against the bill to forbid them to preempt the shore line along the ocean front. The public was in line to be completely shut out from the water, and the Legislature was appealed to and asked to stop the threatening monopoly.

Another bitter fight has been waged over the adoption of the proposed congressional reapportionment measure which would take from northern California one of its congressmen and give it to Los Angeles. This issue has been mixed up with the hydraulic mining measure, the fight against the amendment to the Wright law, recently defeated, etc. Votes have been swapped by advocates for one measure for votes on another measure, so that lines have been crossed in all directions. The final result is very difficult to prophesy as members admittedly are voting for measures of which they do not approve in order to secure votes for measures they favor.

The Assembly has adopted the scheme of appointing a commission to handle the Boulder Canyon Dam proposition. The commission is to represent the state both in its negotiations with other states and with the Federal Government. Preliminary steps have been taken by the chief justice to reorganize the bar of California under the new law. The law does not go into effect for 30 days but the machinery is being gotten ready so that it will go into effect at that time. The requirements for passing the bar in future in California are going to be far more difficult than they have been in the past.

A committee is to consider the scheme of pensioning state employees and is to report at the next session of the Legislature. Assemblyman Coombs of Napa has succeeded in getting his bill passed granting an appropriation of $55,000 to aid dependent, cripple children. It does not establish any special place where they are to be treated but provides funds to pay for the braces, operations and treatments that they may need when their parents are unable to pay for the same.

The old times struggle between the uplands and the valleys has been on again with all its old intensity in the course of the effort to pass the hydraulic mining bill. If the governor should sign it when it reaches him, unquestionably it will be held up with a referendum. It carries an appropriation of $200,000 for dams, and that feature would seriously interfere, it is held, with the governor's economic program.

Commercial gun clubs, that is to say, clubs which charge for the privilege of hunting on their preserves, or individuals who charge for hunting on their property must pay a license of $25 if they are Americans, and $100 a year if they are not citizens. Their premises also are placed under the jurisdiction of the Fish and Game Commission.

It is proposed to have in the two principal cities of the state special juvenile courts, in which the judge would devote himself exclusively to juvenile cases.

ACTS OF CONGRESS TOLD BY CONG. FREE

Congressman Arthur M. Free gave a very graphic and interesting account of the doings and accomplishments of the last congress in his talk Thursday evening at the Grammar School.

This first hand information of the workings of our national law making body, with the personal comment was truly enlightening. Those in attendance were more than repaid for any effort they had made to be present.

Mr. Free has won decided prestige during his terms in Washington and has been, and is a member of several important committees. He knows the ground thoroughly and is an able entertaining speaker.

He explained the new national forest legislation and of his plans for the good of the national forests in his district and the Boulder dam situation in which California is so much interested.

Grange Past Masters Guests at 25th Annual

The new grange orchestra opened the celebration of the Twenty-fifth anniversary of Orchard City Grange Tuesday evening with a fine rendition of "Frat" followed by "Herd Girls Dream." The orchestra is composed of F. E. Carey, leader, Calvin Bohnett, Violin, Mervyn Keesling, Trombone, A. H. Wegel, Trombone, A. J. Peterson, Violin, R. E. Hanson, Saxophone, H. C. Hagen, Flute and will add wonderfully to the interest of grange meetings.

All past masters of Orchard City Grange were present, twelve in number, each having served two years as follows: F. E. Mitchell, E. C. Abbott, A. C. Keesling, J. Bohnett, H. G. Keesling, J. E. Weisendnager, E. K. Clendenning, Robert Scholz, Stanley Smith, Wm. R. Coupland, H. V. Archibald, Louis Shelley, also our present master Harry Barnes and past state master E. T. Pettit, all of whom are still near residents of Campbell. It is questioned whether any other grange can make such a showing.

Mrs. Meda Waite, a charter member gave a short talk on the early history of Orchard City grange. She said the name was proposed by our worthy townsman, C. H. Whitman, that there were 123 charter members, 16 of whom were present. Also that there had been but three secretaries and three treasurers since its organization.

The charter members, led by the assistant Stewards were conducted to the Lecturers stand where they were each presented with a beautiful bouquet of Bell of Portugal Roses, Hencheria, Forget-me-nots and ferns. After recess all of the past masters were seated in a circle near the front of the hall and past State Master E. T. Pettit in a few appropriate words presented each one with a grange pin as a token of remembrance from the grange, each one replying with feeling and recollections of the past.

The lecturer, Mrs. Jessie Chesney, then asked the assistant stewards to conduct past state master E. T. Pettit to her stand where in a few words of appreciation of his work for the grange she presented him with a large plant of the Bell of Portugal Rose which is acknowledged the queen of all roses, especially when in bud. All then marched to the banquet room where a committee had prepared a twenty fifth birthday cake, and a general social time was enjoyed.

Pomona grange meets in Campbell the second Saturday in May.

The grange has accepted an invitation from the M. E. Church to attend services there next Sunday evening May 1st. Members should bear this in mind.

Lea Moves Store to Curry Block

Horace Lea who has been in business here for a little over four years, having bought out the grocery and dry goods business of L. Genasi and Son began business Monday morning in the B. O. Curry Block.

This store was recently vacated by Bonaccorso and Son and has since been entirely renovated and remodelled and is beautifully spic and span.

Mr. Lea has discontinued the dry goods line which he carried in the other building and will handle groceries almost exclusively.

In the few years that Mr. Lea has been engaged in business in Campbell he has built up a very successful business and has a wide circle of staunch friends who wish for him continued success in his business and future health and prosperity for himself and family.

CANADA DAY OBSERVED BY CLUB

Kiwanis celebrated Canada day at the Wednesday luncheon. Doc Beall, pensioned pill pounder held the authority scepter for the hour and scientifically and scrupulously separated sons and shekels.

Gov. Wendell Thomas gave a very pleasing report of the high percentage of the attendance during the intensive drive.

Roy Archibald spoke most highly of Canada and its great regard for its neighbor Uncle Sam. The Rush-Baggett treaty was signed April 28, 1817 and for 110 years these two countries have lived very harmoniously with over three thousand miles of border and not an armed man to guard. This is a most notable example to the world as to what can be done between nations.

He dealt with some of the outstanding features of Canada's history.

Mark Purmort told of the physical greatness of "our lady of the snows" whose chief products are wheat and lumber. The paper products from pulp forms an immense export.

Claud Redwine and Bro. Wagner of Mountain View were guests and extend Campbellites a bid to their benefit Minstrel show.

Pres. T. A. Cutting read an invitation for members to be present at the dedicatory exercises and program at the opening of Carquinez bridge in May.

Ada Gardner and Evelyn Jensen were the Campfire waitresses.

"Chief" Carl Field will operate the mace next week and the program will be furnished by Campbell High School students.

The evening was concluded with another orchestral number.

CHILD HIT BY AUTO BADLY; BRUISED

Norval Guttormsen, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Guttormsen of Page Street miraculously escaped serious accident last Thursday noon when he was struck by an automobile near the Morton Lumber yard.

He was on his way home from kindergarten and had crossed Campbell Avenue to look at some object of interest in front of the theater and then continued on the south side of the street to the corner grocery.

Mr. A. Biggs of Campbell who was going east on Campbell Avenue had crossed the street car track and saw the little fellow standing in front of the store. Suddenly he started across the road and Mr. Biggs turned his machine to avoid him if possible, crossing completely over to the other side of the street, but the boy did not stop or turn and was thrown to the pavement.

He was hurried to Dr. Merrill's office and later to the hospital where he remained unconscious until evening. Providentially his skull was not fractured nor any bones broken, although he was severely bruised and his face discolored.

No possible blame attaches to the driver of the machine as he was driving very moderately and did his best to avoid the catastrophe. The entire community rejoice with the parents in the fortunate outcome of a very dangerous situation.

In this connection we wish to note that the younger children are all started away from school on their own side of the streets where crossing is necessary it is done under the supervision of Mr. Ferro and assistants and parents are urged to help impress upon the little ones the need of staying there and help out the safety campaign being conducted by the schools.

Miss Clarisse Frost is again at home and able to be out after her very serious case of scarlet fever, and time and rest are expected to complete the cure.

DR. DE VOSS SPEAKER HERE MONDAY

The Masonic organization is observing Education Week in this state and the local lodge had arranged for a public meeting Monday evening at the auditorium.

The school participated heartily in the movement and furnished several numbers of the program. The orchestra, under the direction of Edward Towner played several good introductory numbers concluding with America.

H. C. Smith, chairman of the Committee, announced that a chorus from the primary department's operetta "Queen of Hearts" would give their song, and one from "Twilight Alley" by the upper grades.

Gladys Nelson gave a very good dramatic rendition of "The Sword of Bunker Hill."

Dr. Jas. C. DeVoss of the State Teachers College was then introduced and gave an instructive talk on the work of the schools, emphasizing four purposes of modern educational methods. To promote health, to make learning pleasurable to increase vocational training and develop good citizens.

Dr. DeVoss has such a happy way of interspersing bits of fun and humorous anecdotes and illustrations with his information and psychological facts that he holds the interest of every listener even the children.

It is to be regretted that many more of the hundreds of parents in this community did not hear this enlightening address, which brought out a somewhat different viewpoint. We are indebted to him for a very fine talk.

The evening was concluded with another orchestral number.

SEE THE SHAH AT CAMPBELL MAY 6

High School Operetta—May 6

As a result of the tireless and patient efforts of Marian Jenkins and Mr. Josef Halamecek, the principals and choruses of "The Garden of the Shah" are speedily becoming familiar with their parts.

The art classes, under the direction of Miss Kittie Johnson, together with Mr. Wilbur Whitney's Farm Mechanics, classes are working on elaborate stage settings which include, aside from beautiful drops, walls, etc., a fountain from which water actually bubbles. Difficult but wonderfully effective lighting arrangements are also being made by Mr. Whitney.

The costuming and stage settings for this operetta will be more elaborate than those of any production yet presented by the Campbell High students.

Members of former audiences who remember "Miss Cherry-blossom" will be even more delighted with this year's presentation.

The Halamecek children, Joan and Jeanne will entertain in the audience between acts.

Visit "La Fiesta de las Rosas" the first evening and the last, but save "May 6" for your own home town.—M. Blaine.

Riverside has maintained its normal growth during the last twelve months with only degrees of progress to distinguish one year from another in the steady climb as a municipality of residential and industrial importance. Dwellings, schools, municipal buildings, bank clearings, industrial development—all have kept pace with Southern California's general prosperity. Known for its Mission Inn, its Mount Lubidoux, Magnolia avenue and as a city of trees, Riverside has many other accomplishments. Its building program during the last few months has been exceptional. Large sums are being spent on parks. Victoria avenue bridge calls for an expenditure of $100,000; school program more than $1,000,000; municipal auditorium, now under construction, $250,000, and $200,000 monthly is being put into houses for home-seekers.

ELEMENTS OF SUCCESSFUL MERCHANDISING

The first element of successful merchandising is Cost Quality. The merchant must be able to buy quality goods at a price that will insure satisfaction and meet fair competition. This requires careful selecting, quantity purchasing and ample financing.

The second element is Display and service, which include tested methods of personal salesmanship, courtesy and fair dealing.

The third great element is Advertising. Without it the merchant is "all dressed up and no place to go." The home newspaper's advertising service is as much an integral part of merchandising as is any other part of the business of one who deals in the commodities of life and serves human needs.

Time was, perhaps, when people took a passive interest in newspaper advertising, made it a matter of secondary reader-interest, or tacitly "stood" for the intrusion of advertising upon news space. But that condition, if indeed it ever did exist, is far removed in this modern age of business. As has been well said, advertising is news; but it is more than that: it is a valuable service to bring together the people who wish to buy or should be sold and the man who stands ready to supply the need.

Advertising has ceased to be a "flash." It is a commodity with and by which business wins. You can go a while without it—in fact you can go a while without clothes, but the sheriff is liable to get you in either case.

The millions spent for advertising is not alone its proof of merit. Wildcat stocks could claim as much. ADVERTISING IS SUCCESSFUL BECAUSE IT HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN SELLING ITSELF. AND WHAT IT HAS DONE FOR ITS OWN PERPETUATION IT HAS ALSO DONE FOR BUSINESS. The people also benefit because success means large sales, lowering overhead and quantity production.

A WONDERFUL TRANSFORMATION

For a good many years musical people and club workers have been advocating the observance of National Music Week—a week set apart and devoted to the best and most in music. It seems that the radio is making every week and month a time of music, transforming the lonely hours into harmony and the isolated spots into humming, throbbing activity.

And what the radio is doing to fill the silent moments with melody—not for one proclaimed week, but throughout the whole year (or until the battery runs down)—suggests that the time may come when all such "weeks" may become years. Take Thrift Week, Forestry Week, "Be Good" Week, "Pay Your Bills" Week, and all of the other dispensations conceived in the minds of forward-lookers and fostered and popularized upon a waiting and receptive world by press, club and pulpit: what might transform every one of them that are good into year-round activities? Or better still, what can make them a real part of ourselves, a second nature, so that their observance becomes a matter of course instead of a matter of form?

That time should be welcomed by all thinking people. And such a time may come. If, with all our institutions, the world is not getting better what hope is there left? We owe to science and invention a debt of gratitude for comforts and conveniences and other material benefits that make life sweeter. But they are nothing without the moral consciousness behind them to adapt them to the moral and cultural purposes of life.

Athletes don't always, but mother-in-laws always come back.

Yes, sometimes it is a selfish interest that makes a man boost his town. But fortunately it is one kind of selfish work that helps everybody else and hurts nobody else.

Grange Supper

The supper served Friday night under the auspices of Orchard City grange was a marked success both in point of numbers and viands served. The cooking was done in the new style aluminum ware that requires no water and was supervised by two of the district salesmen, Mr. Arthur Frosberg and Mr. Hugh Lindsay. Following the supper a talk on health and the proper methods of cooking foods to preserve their full value was given. The company then adjourned to the Community Hall where a whist party concluded the evening. A lovely assortment of prizes, mostly hand work of the ladies of the grange were distributed at the conclusion of the playing.

P. T. A. Election

The Campbell grammar P. T. A. will meet on Tuesday, May 3, at 2:00 p. m. as there are over one hundred children on the program and it is necessary for some of them to go home on the school busses.

The subject for the day is "Music in Education" and Mrs. Bradley is chairman. She had prepared an elaborate program with the aid of the children from Mrs. Swaine's, Mrs. Sourissee's, Miss Husted's, Mrs. Keesling's and Mrs. Bradley's grades. There will be a may-pole dance on the lawn.

There is to be an election of officers for the next year of P. T. A. and it is hoped there will be a full attendance.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

At last Saturday's meeting of the Boy Scouts, it was decided that we al ltake a fishing trip up to Boulder Creek. We are going to leave Campbell about half past nine, Saturday morning, April 30th, in the Grammar School Bus and return Sunday evening, sleeping in the open while we are there.

While we are at Boulder Creek, we intend to play the Boulder Creek Baseball team and indulge in various sports on Saturday and do our fishing on Sunday as the doing fishing does not open until then.

Warren Turner and Harold Mumma were admitted into the troop as new members.

Patrol Four is still ahead in the race to see which patrol gets the trip to Yosemite. Louis Pope admitted into this patrol last meeting.

—Jack Murdock.

With the defeat of Morgan Hill at the hands of Santa Clara, the Campbell High baseball nine is in a three cornered tie. Morgan Hill, Los Gatos, and Campbell being in first place. Friday afternoon, Campbell will play Mt. View on the high school diamond, here. This game is a very important one, for a loss of one game will put Campbell out of the race. If Campbell wins the game Friday afternoon, they will play the winner of the Morgan Hill-Los Gatos game and the winner of that game will be the I. A. U. Champions. The winning team will later play the winner of the P. A. L. League for the Champion of the whole division. Wouldn't it be grand if Campbell High could win the Championship. All the team needs is our support, so let's be on hand Friday afternoon and cheer them on toward the pennants.

—S. Merrill.

SPRING

The sun shines brightly down upon mother earth, the birds give forth from their tiny throats a song of joy and happiness. Yes! Spring had come, and I am sure we all are enjoying it. The hills are carpeted with green, and springing up between the green are buttercups reaching forth to get some of the sunshine and warmth of life. The fruit trees are decked in splendor with their covering of white and gold. The blue heaven above the white which enfolds the trees, and the hills with their carpet of green and gold leaves a beautiful picture in men's minds leaving them thanking God that they are here in his world of sunshine and flowers.

—S. Merrill.

LADIE'S NIGHT

The members of Charity Lodge F. and A. M. were hosts to their ladies on Saturday evening, the party being held in the Community Hall.

The evening was spent very informally with cards, dancing and conversation. Groups made up tables of bridge and whist and danced intermittently.

Mr. Arthur C. Nelson sang two solo numbers, accompanied by Mrs. E. C. Merrill.

Dyke's Orchestra played for the dancing and gave a few program numbers. Several novel dances were also introduced.

Light refreshments were served during and at the close of the evening.

Courtacy at Least

A very large number of people in Campbell community passed up two very fine addresses the past week. Both were full of most interesting and valuable information, told in a most pleasing way, and by men of wide reputation, who were here to speak by invitation, giving of their valuable time willingly for our benefit.

In both instances the numbers who were out to hear them were so few that it was very discourteous, and decidedly chagrining to those present.

We cannot expect to keep our reputation as an intelligent desirable community, nor expect worth while people to come to us, when they receive such a reception. There are too many places eager and anxious to hear them.

Hereafter, let us accord visitors who have been invited to our midst, a full house of interested listeners.

Save Wild Flowers

The Campbell Grammar School was favored with two visit last week from Mrs. Bertha M. Rice of Saratoga, founder of national "Wild Flower Day."

On Thursday she witnessed the production of a little play "The Awakening of Spring," by Mrs. Mabel Keesling's high second grade. She gave an interesting talk to the children and mothers on Wild Flowers and Birds.

The following day she spoke to the whole grammar school on the necessity of protecting and saving the local birds and wild flowers and aroused sympathetic support.

Many of our wild flowers are fast becoming extinct, even the prolific poppy is disappearing from many fields and wayside, due to cultivation and ruthless picking, while less abundant kinds are becoming more scarce each year.

Leave the flowers for others to enjoy and to re-seed themselves so that we and the coming generations may continue to see these wonderful creations of nature.

Monday, May 2 is the date of the annual meeting of the Country Woman's Club, and every member is urged to be present promptly at 2:30. A majority of the membership must be present for an annual meeting. The unavoidable absences due to the illness make it incumbent upon all to make a special effort to be present so that the election of directors, who constitute the officers, may be chosen.

Mabee-Sturtevant

Howard Arthur Sturtevant, son of W. D. Sturtevant of Campbell was married Saturday, April 23, at Concord to Miss Libby A. Dele Mabee. They will make their home in Stockton at 440 N. Pilgrim Street.

FIESTA TO START AT 9 A. M. SHARP SAT., APRIL 30TH

"Ladies and gentlemen, girls and boys: Santa Clara County's greatest attraction will start promptly at 9 o'clock next Saturday morning, April 30. Nothing more educational, more sensational, or more entertaining has been offered to the citizenry of this productive valley and Central California," reads the announcement of the news bureau of Santa Clara County's Exposition of Progress.

Starting at nine o'clock every morning there will be numerous thrilling and attention-compelling acts on the business streets at San Jose. These acts will be absolutely free to all who wish to see them. Matt Gay, the World's foremost highdiver, will descend from a tower 107 feet high into a tank of water 16 feet in radius and 7 feet deep in a backward somersault, three times each day. The "Flying Bartlett's," performers before many of the crowned heads of the world, will do sensational trapeze acts 30 feet in the air. "Daredevil" Gates will walk on a silver thread of wire, five stories in the air and between two buildings. Numerous acrobats, several famous circus clowns, and three bands will be doing something new, different and sensational, every fifteen minutes of the day from 9 a. m. to midnight of each day, starting April 30.

The Exposition opens its gates at 1 p. m. Saturday. Occupying four city blocks—the old convent grounds—immediately adjacent to the Alameda, it is offering the finest commemoration of the 150th Anniversary chambers of commerce pavilion with this community and every other community in the county displaying their respective arguments for homebuilders will be one of the leading attractions. The Flower Show will occupy the center portion of this enclosure. The Historical Museum has attracted the attention of the finest temporary museum ever conceived. Over 100 merchants and industries have contracted for space in the Industrial pavilion and here will be seen the leading concerns of Central California. Foley and Burke are bringing their combined shows to make up the attractions in the Joy Zone. Government exhibits, demonstration fields, and other educational features will be seen on the grounds.

The baby show, the old fiddlers contest (the married couple contest, the whisker contest, the queen contest, the Cinderella contest, the "Hooping Annie" contest and all other contests will close on the grounds at the hours stated in the program. The Fiesta Queen contest closes at 10 p. m. next Saturday. Everybody is invited to see who the fortunate Santa Clara County girl is who wins this year's valuable honors.

Everybody should go to the combined celebration and enter into the spirit of the old time Spanish fiesta; the Second Annual Santa Clara County Fiesta de las Rosas and the 150th Anniversary Exposition of Progress, April 30 to May 7.

The Fiesta officials have announced that special arrangements have been made with a local stock company for the playing of "The Rose of the Rancho," a play portraying the early Spanish life of California, during the week of the Second Annual Fiesta de las Rosas and the Exposition of Progress from April 30 to May 7 in this city. It will be given for a full week, beginning May 2.

"The Rose of the Rancho" was written by Richard Walton Tully's former resident of San Jose, who has become famous for this and other plays such as "The Bird of Paradise." At the time he wrote it he was living in a log cabin in the Santa Cruz mountains near Alma. The old typewriter on which the story was written is being sought by the manager of the stock company to be put on display in this city. It was necessary to secure the permission of David Bolasco, of New York City, who has all rights of production reserved, before the play could be given.

The setting is laid in the historic little mission town of San Juan Bautista. The plot is taken from actual happenings in connection with the Land Grants of California after the American flag had been raised in Monterey by Admiral Sloat on July 7, 1846, the date that the United States Government took formal possession of the state.

As this is the first presentation of this beautiful historic play in this county it is expected to meet with a warm reception. Original costumes have been ordered from New York, and will arrive here next Wednesday. The cast of forty individuals has been chosen and is working hard for the

One of the important things to remember in planting young trees, whether they be forest seedlings or fruit trees, is to tamp the soil firmly around the roots.

William Barcus of the Barstow colony near Fresno, follows a system of corn planting which he expects will help him catch the top market at some point. He plants five acres at a time every three weeks during the planting season, insuring a continuous crop a considerable period.

Near Flowing Wells, it is reported 200 acres have been set out in new and to grapefruit. Most of the Imperial valley grapefruit plantings have been of from ten to twenty acres and few of them exceed forty acres.

successful presentation of the play.

The three acts are filled with thrills, laughs, sorrow, suspense, gaiety and real Spanish romance. A beautiful thread of romance runs through the plot, culminating in the climax of the last act.
